POOR BUSINESS.—The News says that D. C. Reed has been removed from the Deputy Marshalship in Milwaukee. We can't see any joke or sense in that operation. Reed has more friends, and better deserves them, than any man in the State.—La Crosse Union, (Dem.)

The removal of Messrs. REED and THOMAS, by the newly-appointed U. S. Marshal, is condemned by everybody in our city, except the editor of the News, who wants a deputyship for that paper. Mr. REED had the endorsement of the whole Milwaukee Bar but that did not avail to save him. The News intimates that Mr. R. was suspected of being a friend of "the Editor of the Sentinel."—This, in the eyes of the News clique, was downright treason. Hence his decapitation.

LA POINTE COUNTY.—The Bayfield Press, of Nov. 12, published five days after election, has the following satisfactory paragraph as to the result of the election in La Pointe County:

As far as heard from Bayfield is in the majority for the County Seat. A. Whittlesey, Republican candidate for Assembly, is ahead. Official returns and particulars given next week.

THE SPARTA DEMOCRAT GONE UP.—The Sparta Democrat came to its end last week suddenly, as we expected. Verdict by the inquest: death from natural causes.—Sparta Herald.

There seems to be a fearful epidemic raging among our Democratic cotemporaries—aggravated, no doubt, by the result of the late election.

LECTURE BY A LADY.—GRACE GREENWOOD lectured at Tremont Temple, in Boston, November 15th, to an immense audience. Her subject was—"The Heroic in Common Life." She spoke of the "dress reform movement" very contemptuously, remarking, "I have had my heroic moments, when I even dreamed myself equal to the role of Joan of Arc and Grace Darling; but never, in my utmost exaltation, have I felt capable of leading in this desperate effort to row against the wind and tide, perhaps the mountainous billows of ridicule. I might be tortured by the pinpricks of newspaper wit, and 'smile amid my pain;' I might be cut by high fashion, and survive; but I must confess 'Young America' on the street corners would appal me!"

DROWNED AT LA CROSSE.—BARNEY CONROY was drowned at La Crosse on the 23rd. He leaves a wife and four children.

A SICKLES TRAGEDY AT PORT HURON.—We learn that one of those tragedies that so often result from conjugal infidelity, was enacted yesterday afternoon at Port Huron, with probably fatal results.

It seems that Mr. F. McGee, or McKee, has for some time past suspected his wife of an improper intimacy with Dr. Froinde, an old resident and a prominent physician and citizen of Port Huron. His suspicions had greatly aroused his jealousy, and led him to watch the parties very closely, but with the attainment of no positive proof until yesterday.

In the afternoon he went to his residence, which is situated on Butler street, near the Congregational Church, and attempted to enter through the front door, but to his surprise found it locked. As this door was never fastened except when his wife was absent from home, and knowing that she was not so absent at the time, his suspicions were immediately excited to a very high pitch. He proceeded cautiously to the rear of the house, and entered by a door which communicated with the sitting room, from which a bed room opened off. Stepping in quickly, his worst suspicions were fully and conclusively confirmed by positive evidence, which admitted of no doubt or explanation.

He immediately drew a revolver, with which he was armed and fired. Two balls took effect in the thigh of Dr. Froinde, and two others passed through the fleshy part of the other leg. The injured husband then left the house, informed the neighbors of what he had done, and surrendered himself into the custody of officers. The wounds of the Dr. were severe, and a council of physicians last night thought it not possible for him to recover, the balls in the thigh having inflicted severe wounds.

The matter naturally caused the greatest excitement at Port Huron. Dr. Froinde has always occupied quite a prominent position, while his assailant has borne the reputation of a peaceable and unoffending citizen.—Det. Tribune.

OPENING OF THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—The Grand Trunk Railway was opened from this city to Portland yesterday, the first train leaving in the morning. This will give Detroit a direct and continuous railroad line to Portland, Maine. Its full benefits will probably not be felt during the winter, and it will take some months to perfect the arrangements of this great thoroughfare. These will be completed by the opening of navigation in the spring, when emigrants and goods will be brought from Liverpool to Detroit with but two changes, one from the steamer to the cars and the other at Sarnia. We have already spoken in regard to the advantages which this line will afford to our city and the entire West. We can scarcely doubt that the highest expectations of its most sanguine friends will be more than realized.

A small party went up from this city on the train. At the eating-house of the railroad near Port Huron, they were treated to a good dinner in the afternoon, at which speeches and sentiments proper to the occasion were delivered. Next spring will probably witness a more formal and extensive celebration.—Detroit Tribune.

THE SLAVE EXODUS.—We take the following item from the Hannibal (Mo.) Gazette, a Democratic paper:

During last week over 100 slaves from Lewis, Clark and Scotland counties, have passed down on boats, en route for the South, to be sold. Several large dealers are travelling through all the counties of North Missouri, buying up the slaves rapidly at high prices, to be sold again in the South, where there is a demand for them, and where negro labor is much more remunerative than in this climate. At the present rate of decrease it will not be long before slavery only to a small extent, will become extinct in Missouri. The emancipation law of nature is doing more to make Missouri a free State than the hypocritical howlings of a million of Abolitionists would do in the same number of years.

A FRIEND that you have to buy won't be worth what you pay for him—no matter how little that may be.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thursday, the weather being auspicious, Thanksgiving day was very generally observed by the congregations of our city churches. Sermons appropriate to the occasion were delivered by nearly all of the city pastors, and the attendance at the various houses of worship was large. Rev. J. M. BUCHANAN, at the North Presbyterian Church, preached from the text:

Happy is that people, that is in such a case; yea, happy is that people whose God is the Lord.—Psalms 144: 15.

It was a masterly discourse and elicited many encomiums.

Dr. COOK, of the Summerfield M. E. Church, preached from Psalms 104:

The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.

Rev. W. DELOSS LOVE at the Spring Street Congregational Church, chose for his text:

When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord, thy God, for the good land which he hath given thee.—Deut. 8th c., 10th v.

REV. J. C. RICHMOND and Rev. C. D. HELMER, also delivered excellent discourses, the latter basing his remarks upon the beautiful verse in Psalms:

"O, clap your hands, all ye people! Shout unto God with the voice of triumph."

An unusually large congregation attended the Church of the Redeemer, to hear Mr. STAPLES deliver, according to previous announcement, a sermon on the Irrepressible conflict. Out of courtesy to the reverend gentleman, we omit any report, as the sermon, entire, will shortly be published in pamphlet form, by STRICKLAND & Co.

AN EDITOR SEE'S THE SUN RISE.—Told ANGELINE that on Thanksgiving morning I wanted to get up at 6 o'clock, to see the sun rise. Having all my life heard and read a good deal in regard to the peculiarities and magnificence attending the first shower of daylight, I naturally felt not only a landable curiosity in that respect, but a virtuous determination to emulate for once the early maggot and "git."

At six on the appointed morning, in the midst of roseate hallucinations and ambrosial delights usually attendant on the dreams of a virtuous editor, I was rudely plucked from the somnific sea by ANGELINE, who said it was six o'clock. I expressed my surprise that she could suppose the exact period of mean time interested by me particularly, and desired her gently to "Go away, do."

"But it's six o'clock; don't you want to see the sun rise?"

I tried to make it plain to her comprehension that such a wish on my part would have been the heighth of folly. To which she replied: "You wanted me to get you out at six—don't you remember that?" I answered that she ought to be ashamed to entertain so silly an idea, and that even had I expressed anything so atrocious, it was only intended as a joke. But with an obstinacy which is characteristic of ANGELINE, she, without any further moral suasion, walked away down stairs, and carried the bed clothes with her, leaving me for a moment under a vivid impression that the surrounding atmosphere had suddenly been surcharged with ice water, and that I was an eel in the happy state of nudity supposed to fit that animal for frying. Under the latter illusion, I performed a series of eelish evolutions akin to squirming and utterly failing to woo back the drowsy God in my unattractive attire—I was compelled, from a sheer sense of the cold-heartedness of the world, to rise and dress.

Performed a hasty toilet by the gas jet; put on a travelling shawl and started with ANGELINE for the Lake Shore to see Aurora sprinkle with roseate light the dewy lawn. The lake had a peculiar dark tinge, as though it hadn't got the stain of night out of it yet, and in the east there was a couple of irregular streaks of vermillion reminding me much of a pair of red flannel drawers on a clothes line during a steady gale. Meandered along the pebbly shore, had to shout to ANGELINE my occasional raptures, owing to the bellowing of the sea. Remarked "it was a stirring scene" after observing the muddy tinge of the water. Suddenly discovered a great red hole in the sky in the east, set it down as the sun; tried to look at it but tears blinded our eyes, and our shawls and other garments vehemently struggled to get away from the place and we had to desist. Saw a cow approaching the lake with her tail in horizontal extension. ANGELINE remarked she was coming down to be quartered by the winds. Caught a severe diarrhœa in my head and had to use my hem-stitch as an absorbent.—Wound our way up a precipitous bank, and liked to have "run down;" entered a gully, found it was a natural blow-pipe where all the morning zephyrs congregated—never saw ANGELINE or her dress in such a flutter; remarked how ungraceful she appeared behind, owing to the atmospheric pressure, reached the outlet of the ravine 'blowin.'

Summed up my experience as follows:—Glories of sun-rise all wind.

LET THEM COME.—INVITED TO MADISON.—The Light Guard, Capt. Starkweather, of this city, have been invited to be present and assist in the Inauguration of Gov. Randall in January next. They will probably go.—Wisconsin.

For the love of all that's consoling in defeat and trouble let that wholesouled military company come along, for on such an occasion we will need the presence of some of the liveliest and best hearted gentlemen in the State.—Madison Patriot, (Dem.)

We are sure that the M. L. G. cannot resist this urgent appeal of the Madison Patriot for their presence and sympathy in the hour of its affliction.

THE REV. MR. RUSSELL, from Connecticut, will officiate and preach in St. Paul's Church to-morrow.

What Editors Have to Answer For.

A few days ago the following communication appeared in the Sentinel:

TO THE EDITORS OF THE SENTINEL:—Being a foreigner, and ignorant, as yet, of the origin and pith of many of the technical terms of the political phraseology of this country, I would feel obliged if you would inform me whence it comes that a defeated candidate for office is said to have gone up Salt River. IGNORAMUS.

To which "Ignoramus the Second" makes the following reply:

ED. OF SENTINEL.—The answer to my brother Ignoramus' query in regard to Salt River is undoubtedly found in the fact that at some time a defeated candidate retired to his home on an actual Salt River, followed by the jeers or rejoicings of a victorious opposition. Though, a recent squib, I think, in Notes and Queries, states that the phrase originated thus:—"Some years ago a band of outlaws frequented the Salt River in Missouri, which runs through Monroe county, and empties into the Mississippi. The depredations committed on merchandize passing to New Orleans soon led to the expression among business men whose ventures had been rendered unfortunate by robbery, that their consignments had gone up Salt River, i. e. failed of success. IGNORAMUS NO. 2.

We now have the following presented for our consideration:

JAMESTOWN, Nov. 21st.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you please tell me through your paper where I can get some loadstone, and what the price of a piece as large as a hen's egg, and you will oblige me very much. G. W. H.

To which we can only say that loadstone is an ore consisting of the pro toxide and peroxide of iron in a state of combination. It is found in the crude state in the primitive rocky formations of Sweden, China and the Philippine Islands, where our correspondent will most probably be able to obtain a supply.

Horse Railroads.

For the Daily Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—Horse Railroads seem to be one of the great institutions of the age, one of the paying institutions. From the proceedings of the Common Council and other publications in the city papers, it is apparent, we are to be provided extensively with these very popular and paying institutions.

In contemplating these new improvements, the questions will arise in the minds of many tax payers in this tax ridden city, who are to receive the benefits to be derived from these improvements? Are the interests of tax payers, and the welfare of the city being looked after and guarded with a watchful eye, by the City Council, while granting rights and privileges for years to come, to use the public streets? If not, it is time the dear people, those who pay the bills, were looking into it.

The city of Cincinnati is now deriving a large income from her Horse Railroads, which the companies pay freely, and in addition, "bowlder and keep in good repair, to the satisfaction of the City Council, the entire street or streets, from curb to curb, respectively occupied by their tracks." And with this large tax on Street Railroads, they still pay, to their enterprising owners, a large profit, larger, if Madame Rumor is correct, than any other legitimate business. Why should not Milwaukee by Street Railroads, aid our much impoverished Treasury also.

This being the state of the case in Cincinnati, I am satisfied similar things can be brought about here, for it seems to be understood in some quarters that responsible parties from abroad are here, or will be here soon, who will pay to the city, or the holders of these privileges, a large bonus for the right to build and run those railroads, and they are said to be men who know what they are about in such matters.

Tax payers, look to this before it is too late. A TAX PAYER.

OPENING OF THE DETROIT DIVISION OF THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—On Monday that division of the Grand Trunk Railway between this city and Port Huron, was formally opened for traffic and travel. This was the last link in the largest Railway owned by, and under the management of one company, not only upon the American continent, but in the world. It is over eight hundred miles in length, costing the enormous sum of sixty millions of dollars, and connecting not only Detroit and Port Huron, and the whole West with Portland, but directly with Europe, through the Canadian line of steamers. Though this stupendous work has been built with foreign capital, it is almost as much an American as a Canadian road. It has both its termini in the United States, while sixty miles of it lies in Michigan, and ever one hundred and fifty, if we mistake not, in Maine. Its great reliance, too, for business, must be on the trade of the United States—the vast West particularly. Though it cannot but prove of vast benefit to that portion of Canada that will be tributary to it, and must receive an immense local trade, yet it must depend upon the trade between the Western States and the East—its through traffic—for its profits. As the Western terminus of this great enterprise, Detroit must partake of a large share of its benefits. It opens to us, and through us, to the West, a new avenue to the East, and what is equally important, a direct trade with Europe. This is ultimately to be a source of wealth to us that it is not easy to estimate. Detroit, therefore, has a right to rejoice at the final completion of this stupendous work.—Detroit Advertiser.

The opening of this great thoroughfare is an event of no less importance to Milwaukee than Detroit, giving us an almost direct Railway connection with Quebec, Boston, and Portland. The completion of the Owosso branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, by the aid of the Steamship Line across Lake Michigan will make Milwaukee virtually the Western terminus of this gigantic Railway and Steamship Line between Liverpool and the West; and that our city will eventually become the "enterpot" for all the foreign goods consumed in the vast section of country West and North of us, there is no room for a reasonable doubt.

A SPLENDID PICTURE GRATIS.—We saw yesterday at STRICKLAND & Co.'s book store, two elegant engravings of WASHINGTON and EVERETT, each 25x35 inches and containing six square feet, which are to be given to the subscribers of Harper's, the Atlantic, Knickerbocker and Blackwood's Magazines. The engravings are really superb and we advise all our readers who intend renewing or commencing their subscriptions for either of these popular periodicals to call on STRICKLAND & Co., and secure one of the pictures.

OH DEER—OH DEER.—CRUMMEY desires to return thanks to Messrs. KEAN & RICE and Mr. JUDSON, the gentlemanly steward of the NEWHALL, for facilities offered him on Thanksgiving Day to replenish his stock of poultry.

CRUMMEY has now on hand deer enough to feed all Milwaukee and Chicago—jus so—go and see.

A BIT OF A SQUALL.—A stout breeze sprung up last night and worked itself into a blustering rage—made itself particularly obnoxious to signs and awnings and window shutters—and serenaded the town with very weird music until morning.

NEW SALOON.—There will be an opening of Mr. JOHN G. COON's, new saloon, the Gothic Hall, on Third street opposite the La Crosse Depot, this evening, at six o'clock, when JOHN will be pleased to see all his friends.

Magazines for Binding.

As the year draws to a close, and with it the volumes of the many periodicals subscribed for by our readers, we would call attention to the facilities at the SENTINEL BINDERY for putting all kinds of periodical literature in a durable and convenient shape, at a reasonable price. Let those who have magazines bring them to the SENTINEL office and have them bound. We are also prepared to execute orders for blank books of the heaviest and most ornate description, and are constantly furnishing Ledgers and every variety of business account books to Merchants. Our means of executing durable and ornamental binding are unequalled. Give us a call.

FAT HOGS.—The handsomest lot of dressed hogs that we have seen this season, were purchased by Messrs. LAYTON & PLANKINTON, yesterday, averaging 370 pounds each. They were raised by Mr. GEORGE COMSTOCK, of Summit, Waukesha county, who obtained the round price of $5,75 per cwt. for them. There were four hogs in the lot, all the same size and age.

RUNTS.—J. S. FILLMORE has a very nice house on Van Buren st., between Oneida and Biddle, west side; water, &c. Rent $15 per month. Also a very nice brick house on Cass st., between Biddle and Oneida. Gas, water and all modern improvements. Also a very nice house on Sycamore st., between Fourth and Fifth sts. Water, gas, &c.

LECTURE.—Mr. A. W. SPRAGUE, the celebrated Trance Speaker, will lecture at Good Templars' Hall, on Sunday, at 3 1-2 and 7 o'clock, P M. Admission 10 cents, to defray the expenses of Hall, &c. The public generally, are respectfully invited. *

PROF. VIZAY gives another of his pleasant soirees, at Wettstein's Hotel, this evening.—In the course of the evening several of his dancing school scholars—young misses—will perform a number of fancy dances. Tickets only 50c.

GIFT ENTERPRISE—POSTPONEMENT.—Owing to the late bad weather, the drawing of Mrs. Fox's Gift Enterprise has been postponed until next Saturday evening, Dec. 2d. It will come off, as before announced, at Reis' Hall, Market building.

WE WOULD CALL ATTENTION to the advertisement in another column of a gentleman wishing to purchase the interest of a temperance restaurant at a flourishing town or railroad station in this State.

THIS MORNING CALEB WALL sells a select library; also a lot of fine potatoes.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—Harper's Magazine for December; The Illustrated London Almanac for 1860; "Phunny Phellaw" for Dec. Everything in the periodical and book line that is new, is on hand at 25 Wisconsin St. oct27l858d1y W. E. TUNIS & CO.

THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY of CANADA

PUBLIC NOTICE.—The extension of the above Railway to Sarnia, and the completion of the New Line between Port Huron and Detroit, on the 1st of November next, will form a continuous Road under one Management from Detroit, (Michigan), to Toronto, Kingston, Montreal, Quebec and Portland, (Maine), thus establishing a new First Class Route between the Western and New England States.

The connection formed at Detroit with the Michigan Central and Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroads, will enable Freight to be sent through from St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee, St Paul and all points on the Mississippi River, with greater dispatch than by any other route, as the completion of the Great Victoria Bridge at Montreal, before the close of Navigation, will prevent any interruption to the traffic. Only one transhipment between Portland and Chicago, Cairo, or St. Louis.

At Portland the Grand Trunk connects with the Railroads leading into Boston, also with a First Class Line of Powerful Steamboats which leave Portland and Boston every night.

The Magnificent Vessels forming the Line of the Montreal Ocean Steamship Company, run between Quebec and Liverpool in Summer, and between Portland and Liverpool during Winter, waiting the arrival of the Connecting Trains of the Grand Trunk Railway. Passengers and Freight booked through and put on board free of expense.

At Sarnia (opposite Port Huron), the Company have built extensive Freight Warehouses, and on and after the 15th instant, will be prepared to receive Flour and other Rolling Freight intended to go Eastward by Railway, and store the same, for a reasonable time, Free of Charge.

An Elevator of large capacity is in course of erection at Sarnia, and will shortly be ready for receiving grain.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

No report last night, the lines being down east.

From Key West.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Express.

KEY WEST, Nov. 17.

The vessels reported ashore by the steamer prove to be the following:

Ship Hiedelberg, Rudowald, from New Orleans, bound to Havre, cargo $37,000 silver coin, 3,419 bales cotton and 1,650 stores.

Ship Chas. Crooker, Murray, from New Orleans, bound to Liverpool, cargo 50 hhds. tobacco, 3,150 bales cotton and 2,650 stores.

Ship Eliza Mallory, Burritt, from New Orleans, bound to San Blas, Mexico; cargo 5,500 half bales cotton.

Brig North, Garton, from Galveston, bound to New York; cargo 1,000 bales cotton.

Bark Mary Coe, Avery, from Mobile, bound to Liverpool; cargo 1,100 bales cotton.

The value of these vessels and their cargoes cannot be much less than one million of dollars; and it is feared that all the ships but one will be lost, and most of their cargoes either lost or damaged.

The Heidelberg is ashore 12 miles north of Cape Florida; the Crooker 25 miles north, the Eliza Mallory 60 miles, the brig North 62, and the bark Mary Coe 75 miles. The distance of the bark from Key West is 225 miles, or 450 miles for a round trip of a wrecker. Notwithstanding the distance, the wreckers will do all in their power to save the property. About 50 vessels manned by 500 men, are now engaged on these ill-fated ships; and if they succeed in getting the cargoes into port without the loss of some of their vessels or crews, they will be fortunate.

The wreckers have saved from the Heidelberg 1,840 bales dry cotton; from the Chas. Crooker 920 bales; from the Eliza Mallory 906 bales, and from the bark Mary Coe 24 bales, all of which is dry. No cotton has been saved from the brig North; she was driven into the beach, and none but light draught vessels can approach. One of the most experienced of our wrecking captains says she cannot be wrecked.

The wreckers have certainly a harvest before them, but it will require more hard and dangerous work than any wrecking before carried on on this coast—wrecking on the reefs and on the beach being two different employments.

NAVIGATION STILL OPEN.—Navigation holds out well this season, notwithstanding the early premonitory symptoms of a close. But for all practical purposes, however, the river might as well close. The boats have nearly all stopped running and the stages are carrying the mails.—St. Paul Minnesotian, 23d.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

HOME AGAIN, AFTER BEING ABSENT for nearly a month; have seen no city more promising or inviting than our beautiful City, Milwaukee. Find business in all the cities generally dull, except New York, and dull particularly in all real estate operations. Money is abundant in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore; in any one of these cities money can be obtained at six per cent. for home securities, but at present they prefer not to invest or loan on Western property; but that is wearing away very rapidly. A much better feeling now exists towards the West than there did six months ago, and I have no doubt in my own mind that in six months or twelve months we shall see a great reaction in all operations in our city, and still a greater one if we will manage to pay up promptly the interest on our city indebtedness. I came home feeling delighted with Milwaukee. I have seen no place to compare with it, or that I would be willing to exchange it for, and I am satisfied in my own mind that it will be going ahead and grow more rapidly the next five years, than we have for the last ten years. I am, myself, perfectly contented with Milwaukee. Let us all cheer up. Milwaukee is too important a point to be overlooked. In conclusion, I would say I am now ready to attend to my Auction and Commission business in the usual way, and all business entrusted to me will be faithfully and strictly attended to. My Auction Room is very large, and I can store away any amount of Goods.

On my way home through Baltimore, I stopped at Harper's Ferry and obtained one of Capt. Ossawatomie Brown's Pikes. All who have any curiosity to see this instrument of death, call at my Auction Room. CALEB WALL, City Auctioneer.

PROCLAMATION.

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TIME HONORED CUSTOM, Gov. Randall has, with the advice and consent of his Council, appointed Thursday the 24th day of November as a day of THANKSGIVING AND PRAISE. We ought, indeed, to feel thankful for the many blessings we have enjoyed during the past year. Thankful that while other nations are filing innumerable households with grief and distress, we have been wonderfully spared — Thankful that while the coming cold, stormy winter is staring us in the face, that BRADSTREET, the "Weather Strip Man" will visit this city with this most useful article for keeping out the snow, rain, wind and cold from outside doors and windows. I do hereby recommend to the citizens of Milwaukee that they do meet at the Walker House upon each and every day for one week following Thursday, the 24th, and examine the merits of this article.

Given this twenty-first day of November, 1859.

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 26, 1859.

The Next Presidency.

From the Atlas, (German.)

It gives us great pleasure to find in the Sentinel of yesterday a recommendation for Mr. SEWARD, as candidate for the Presidency. The Sentinel says, that it is of no question, that Mr. SEWARD can be elected, and then adds:

"He is the strongest man with the People, as he is the ablest Statesman in the Senate. And no man familiar with his political career can doubt that he would make the best and safest President the Republic has had for twenty-five years."

We fully concur in this opinion, and a general effort should be made to secure the nomination for Mr. SEWARD, as he is one of the most gifted and liberal of our public men. The Republican party would honor itself by nominating such a man. America has been rather unfortunate for the last five years, in having elected for Presidents, either unqualified men like Mr. PIERCE, or bad and corrupt like Mr. BUCHANAN. It would be time now, to make a change, and to give the place, hitherto occupied by mediocrity and baseness, to a man who is equally honored as a statesman, lawyer, orator and party leader.

SEWARD has been significantly called the embodiment of Republicanism; may he not be sacrificed to the considerations or tricks of certain compromise seeking leaders and organs. We believe with the Sentinel, that SEWARD, if nominated, will be elected. Should, however, this not be the case, then we think that a defeat with SEWARD would be more honorable than a victory with BANKS, who denies equal rights to all; or with BATES, who is too tame and too lame to satisfy the progressive tendencies of the Republican party. Our hearty sympathies are for Mr. SEWARD, and we hope that the Republican delegates of Wisconsin will cast their votes for him in the National Convention.

An Unjust Charge Refuted.

The Sentinel, which, since the adoption of the Massachusetts Amendment, is constantly on the alert, to find some equivalent for it in the action of the democracy, seizes, with characteristic avidity, upon the following ill-advised statement of the Madison Patriot, in regard to the causes which operated against Lion Silverman, the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, in the late canvass:

"He," (Silverman) says the Patriot, "was charged with being a Jew, and his Protestant and Catholic countrymen voted against him almost to a man on that account."

We believe the Patriot, inadvertantly no doubt, does great injustice to the Protestant and Catholic Germans, as we do not recollect to have heard, either during the canvass, of since it closed, of such a charge being urged against him.—News of Thursday.

The apology of the News for the charge of its yoke-fellow, of the Patriot, will scarce pass current. The statement of the Patriot is a positive one and was made undoubtedly, not upon information, or belief, but of its own knowledge. The fact is undeniable that Mr. SILVERMAN is a victim to Democratic Know-Nothingism, though the publication of that fact in a Democratic paper, was "deliberately stupid, if not malicious."

THE Washington correspondent of the Tribune says that the latest excitement in Charlestown is being used at Washington as a means for coercing a concentration of the Southern vote in organizing the House.—Whether this "sectional" scheme will succeed remains to be seen.

English Opinion on the Harper's Ferry Outbreak.

From the London Times, Nov. 2.

Of course there can be but one issue to this foolishness and enterprise. The insurgents will, by their fate, give a warning to all who may dream of remedying a great social evil by an appeal to arms. But the state of society which causes such a scheme to be formed and carried out is not the less threatening. When a few Papists planned the blowing up of the English Parliament, the chances of success were desperate, but the act showed that there existed elements of danger in the State. Nor can it be doubted that with skillful and audacious leadership the colored people of Virginia would be capable of inflicting terrible calamities on their masters. With men who would set their lives on the cast, and who cared for nothing provided liberty, or at least revenge, were gained, an insurrection would be formidable. The blacks of this part of the Union are more instructed than further South, where Slave life is one round of toil; there are a great number of mulattoes, many free negroes, and a good many poor whites, some of whom might be expected to take part in any outbreak. All this population has, by contact with the more civilized regions, acquired knowledge and feelings which perhaps hardly exist in Alabama or Texas. They know enough to become discontented with their condition, but not enough to feel the utter madness of a struggle with the American people. Our correspondent expresses probably the common opinion when he says that the plot was widespread, and that the premature outbreak has probably saved the country from a deluge of blood. The insurgents, we can easily believe, thought that the seizure of a Government establishment, and the possession of rifles and cannon, would encourage the whole population to rise against their masters. Forty-eight hours might have been enough to make half the plantations in the State the scenes of the foulest crimes. The isolated and unprepared families in the country districts might have been set upon by their maddened slaves, and the whole system of slaveholding been so shaken as to necessitate some plan of abolition.

This, at least, seems to have been the design of the leaders. That they could have expected to conquer the United States' Executive in a servile war, and turn Virginia and Maryland into free States through victories gained by rebellious Negroes, seems out of the question. America is not like one of our own island colonies, where the Negroes outnumber the whites many fold. In the districts where this outbreak took place the whites are probably superior in number to the colored population. They are all armed and accustomed almost from childhood to the use of their weapons. The circumstances in which they are placed have given them an aptitude for something like military organization, and they have continually before their eyes the necessity of preserving order among the African race. We may be sure that after the first surprise, the white men in every American State would take prompt and effectual measures to prevent rebellion, though probably not soon enough to prevent the commission of many atrocities. This fact adds much to the guilt of the men who organized this scheme. Nothing but sickening and bootless slaughter could come of it: first the slaughter of white families by their slaves, and then the bloody revenge of the exasperated masters.

We will not affect to indulge the hope that the commonwealths of Virginia and Maryland will be moved by this event to take into consideration the extinction of slavery. Putting aside the fact that such outbreaks generally steel the heart instead of softening it, and that the yoke is likely to be pressed down more heavily than ever on Negro necks, there are greater inducements of gain and fear to support the system. Cotton is produced now in vaster quantities than ever, and the value of negro labor is continually rising. The price of negroes is nearly double what it was some years back, for the increase by breeding does not keep pace with the demand for the newly settled country. As long as Virginia supplies the dealers of the South with profit to herself, so long will owners keep a firm grasp on their human property.

FELICITOUS NAME.—In the telegraphic account of the haystack panic at Harper's Ferry, it was announced that the troops marched to the scene by the "Man-asses road!"—This prefix of "man" is no more than just to the ass of the quadrupedal species, who would not have budged an inch until he knew what it was for.—N. Y. Post.

THE AMERICANS IN PEKIN.

First Letter Written by an American in the Chinese Capitol—The Journey—Land Route from Peitang to Pettsang—The Roads—Chariots—Mules—Monuments—Country—Villages—Productions.

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

IMPERIAL CITY OF PEKIN, CHINA,
Wednesday, July 24th, 4 o'clock P. M., 1859.

These are the first lines written by an American in this great and mysterious city—the greatest capital of the greatest and oldest empire of the world.

* * * We entered the "Eastern Gate" at 3 o'clock P. M., every joint and muscle strained, and every bone aching as if dislocated or broken, by the day's unutterable, inconceivable joltings, hits and smashes, over a most execrable flag-stone road, and now quietly and charmingly located in a fine house, owned and occupied a few years since by a Prime Minister of the Empire.

* * * * * * *

MR. WARD'S SUITE—DEPARTURE FOR PEKIN.

* * * The suite of Mr. Ward consisted of Wallace Ward, Esq., his brother and Secretary of Legation; S. W. Williams, Esq., interpreter of the Legation, and Rev. Mr. Martin, of Ningpo, and Rev. Mr. Atchison, of Shanghai, Assistant Interpreters; Geo. W. Heard, Esq., and John S. Lurman, Esq., attaches; Lieuts. Trenchard and Habersham, Captain Taylor, of the Marines, Surgeons Fox and Sandford; Purser Gadatin, Chief Engineer Stock, and your correspondent, with three marines, and several cooks and servants, amounting in the whole to twenty-nine persons. There was very naturally, a strong desire to be enrolled in the favored list, while at the same time, as the day approached, the expected fatigue, the hot climate at the capital, the terrible vehicles, whose fame had reached our ears, the innumerable delays and annoyances, and the possible danger and unknown future of a little unarmed band among Chinese Manchoos and Moguls, perceptibly abated the zeal with which the grand and unique feast was at first contemplated.

The Commodore, always full of enthusiasm as well as of lion-courage, designed following his flag into the imperial city, and several other officers of the Powhatan, who were prevented by ill health. The Powhatan being of too great a draft to permit her entering the river, all went on board the Toeywan at 11 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, the light steamer lying at anchor near us.—Just as we had left the Powhatan in her boats, the Russian Governor-General of Eastern Siberia, General Mouriavieff, with his aid, came dashing over the rough water in his barge, to take leave of Mr. Ward, on whom he had called before. Making a hasty call on the Commodore, he was soon in his barge again; and reaching the Toeywan, saluted our Minister with the enthusiasm of a Frenchman. Our little steamer was soon under steam, and as she passed the two Russian war steamers, was honored by a double salute from both of them.

PEI-TANG—CURIOSITY TO SEE THE WHITE MEN—THE ESCORT.

The city of Pei-tang, lying on the right bank of the river, was about ten miles from our anchorage, and near the mouth of the river of the same name, and is defended by three forts. The river is a quarter of a mile wide at high water, and in the port I counted a hundred junks, while as many more, driven by a single square sail, and carrying from 100 to 150 tons, were seen gracefully gliding over the smooth waters of the Gulf, where not one could be seen while the terrible fracas was going on at the forts of the Peiho, and while one English sail was to be seen in the Gulf. The city contains a population of 25,000, who turned out in vast crowds to see the first Americans who ever entered their city, and perhaps the first white men they had ever seen. Spending the night on board the steamer, all arrangements were made by the Mandarins for our departure in the morning. Thirty chariots, or rather carts, such as I described in a previous epistle, were drawn up there to landing, besides half a dozen wagons for the baggage, while 20 or 30 coolies carried packages and boxes, strung to the ends of a bamboo pole, and thrown over the shoulders. In addition to this, some 20 other chariots were occupied by Mandarins, while some officials, mounted on horses, their "buttons," on the top of their conical white bamboo braid caps glittering in the sun, and the red hair attached to the top of the cap floating in the air, led the caravan, and others brought up the rear.

A HIGH OFFICER WITH $60,000 SALARY—IGNORANCE OF THE OUTSIDE WORLD—IMMENSE QUANTITIES OF SALT.

A high officer was designated by the Emperor to be the commander of our escort, whose name is Tsung-hau, Brevet Salt Commissioner, an office of high honor and emolument, as the salary and parquisites, as I am informed, amount to $60,000. Tsung-hau is a Manchoo, about 80 years of age, of middle stature, light oval face and almost feminine voice—gentlemanly and unassuming, and on all occasions most attentive and courteous. He showed a vigorous mind and a considerable amount of general knowledge, though, like the other Imperial Commissioners, his ignorance of geography and other nations was past belief. Salt is an imperial monopoly, of which vast quantities are piled up like hay-stacks at the mouth of the Peiho, and still greater at Tien-tsin, where the river unites with the grand canal. Crawling into our vehicle, where we bid adieu to the world, except the driver who sat upon the shaft, and the two mules which he controlled with his whip, the staff of bamboo six feet long, a graceful young shoot, and the lash six feet more, and made of cord instead of leather, while the back and both sides of the carriage were covered with blue cloth, we advanced Pekin-ward.

NEW YORK IN 1858 OUTDONE BY CHINA MUD—THE CARTS (CARRIAGES.)

Leaving Pei-tang, its mud, straw houses and streets of infinite mud, we plunge into a tract of miles in all directions still muddier. The mules sank half way to their knees, and the wheels half way to their hubs, while the fearful knocks and bruises, of the helpless, groaning insiders, portended with more certainty than Millerite prophets, if not the end of the world, at least the end of some of the poor mortals just in it. These carts, tor such they should be called, are exceedingly stout and heavy, and being without springs, the motion is as graceful and easy as a New England cart driven upon a trot over ruts and rock heaps. It added to the dolefulness of the scene, that all the country around was thickly covered with ground mounds, like hay-stacks, some three or four feet high, and others fifteen, and all without a leaf or flower upon them, and seemed to tipify our own speedy destruction.

NOTHING TO BE SEEN—NO HUMAN BEINGS—NOT A STONE IN THE COUNTRY, NOR A TREE IN A WHOLE DAY'S JOURNEY.

Not a house to be seen; not a foot of cultivation, not a human being, or an inhuman man. The gulf spread out on one hand, and the more desolate, barren and dismal mud plain before us. As there are no stones all the way from the gulf to Pekin, (not one did I see which was not imported,) the people are obliged to construct their funeral monuments of earth only, and here they had stood and been multiplying for untold ages, and spread over a common sized township. Nor was a tree to be seen till near the end of our first day's journey. At length a little coarse grass began to appear, which upon being put in the mouth had a saline taste, indicating that the soil is saturated with saline matter. The whole of the vast plain from the gulf to Pekin and 50 miles beyond, to the grand chain of mountains we saw as we approached the city is only a few feet above the level of the gulf. Hence the barrenness in most of the country between the coast and the river, while on the river and to a considerable distance back on both sides of the river, the fertility is indicated by the most luxuriant vegetation I saw or heard of.

FIRST HALT—HONORS TO THE VISITORS.

Plodding on slowly and painfully, we at length reached the town of Kiuntiangchung, or Army-Commisserat citadel—a village compactly built and containing a population of 2,000, or 3,000 souls. The best house in the place had been procured for our lodgment by a mandarin, which was owned by a wealthy and respectable individual who was unceasing in his attentions. The long course between two blocks of houses, all making one establishment, had been covered with a sun-mat awning 30 feet high, which shut out the sun and the heat. A dozen Mandarins or more had come in from a distance, and were awaiting Mr. Ward's arrival, whom they welcomed with all the ardor of Eastern demonstrations of friendship; and soon after, mounting their horses, or entering their chariots, retired to their houses. On the walls on each side of the doors, red pieces of paper were fastened—slips an inch wide, and covered with a line of Chinese characters, expressing good wishes, and especially long life, which is a favorite invocation with the Chinese, even when so great a part of them have nothing to live for, and life is worse than death.

SECOND DAY'S JOURNEY—SIGNS OF CIVILIZATION—MORE MUD—SPLENDID MULES—VILLAGES—CORN—HEMP—THE PEIHO IN SIGHT.

The next morning, taking an early start, though with dismal forebodings, we dashed forward in the forenoon over a dry country, the trees multiplying, some spots under cultivation, and herds of cattle, mules and horses, seen here and there under the care of keepers, with large villages scattered in the distance, and some through which we passed, whose crowds poured out and filled the sides of the roads and the streets, to gaze and wonder, but always orderly and civil. Stopping at one of these villages to dine, as had been arranged by the Commissioner, who was our escort, everything was found in readiness, and the tables spread in Chinese style, with 25 courses—not spread, but literally piled up, one dish upon another. The cookery and articles cooked are things into which I hardly dipped, and therefore shall omit discussing.—In the afternoon we plunged into mire again, the whole country being flooded with recent rains, and so bad as to give no escape to the water. Once some of our carriages were fastened in this inland sea, from which they were extricated only by the amazing strength of the grandest mules the world ever saw.—Some are of vast size and very handsome, and worth even here $150. Still, there were numerous villages raised upon little knolls and swells, and looking like the ark on the flood. There were also great fields of corn-millet growing, 12 and 14 feet high, and a species of hemp 8 feet high, now luxuriant and in full yellow blossom—all of which made the scene picturesque and novel, and interesting despite our bone-aches and heart-aches. Near sunset, the masts and spread sails seen in the distance, as though the solid earth was navigated here, announced our approach to the Peiho, where we were to take junks; and soon we were there.

THE JOURNEY ON THE PEI-HO—GOVERNMENT STOREHOUSES.

The name of the large town situated here is Peitsang or the Northern Granaries, given it from the fact that large brick storehouses are erected here for the grain which comes up from the adjacent country for the use of the Emperor, as taxes are paid in kinds. Here three large junks and one smaller one, a boat rather, were in readiness, the one designed for our minister having been quite tasteful in its day, as well as large, it being 100 feet long by 25 wide, and now in a state of decay, thus maintaining its keeping with the "sick old man" of China. Spending the night on board, and accommodating ourselves to our new and strange quarters, in the morning a strange sight broke upon the eyes of the amazed and wondering crowds of beholders.

THE FLAGS OF THE OLDEST AND YOUNGEST NATIONS EMBRACING.

The Stars and Stripes were run up to the top of the high mast, and there our national flag sported in the breeze with the flag of China—the flag of the youngest nation in the world nearly, embracing lovingly but not tremblingly that of the oldest, the most hoary, and almost antedeluvian. The sight was touching to my own heart as I gazed upon the flags thus floating upon the breeze from the single mast of the junk, and 40 feet high in the air. The ends of time seemed to unite in these intertwining standards, and the history of our globe to be written on those folds.

PEI-TSANG—WHY THE LAND ROUTE WAS TRAVELED—FEARS OF INVASION—THE PEI-HO A CHARMING RIVER.

This town, Pei-tsang, is only eight miles from Tien-tsin, a name so often occurring in my letters and the papers, where the Grand Canal unites with this river. The distance from the mouth of the river to Tien-tsin by water is 70 miles, through by land it is only half that distance, so tortuous is the river. The distance traveled was estimated at 45 miles in reaching this point on the river.—Much easier and more pleasant would have been a passage up the river from its mouth; and the only reason for the other course to which we were driven, was the policy of the Chinese government to close up the Pei-ho to foreigners for the protection of the capital from foreign invasion. Beyond a doubt, strong fortifications are erected far up the river, which the government intend to keep a secret, until the flames of powder shall reveal them. The Pei-ho is a charming river, having above Tien-tsin a depth of from 4 to 15 feet of water, and the width of the Connecticut at its mouth, and nearly twice its width above Springfield. The current is about 2 1-2 miles an hour, and the tide, as we saw, most materially affected it at Tungchow, only 12 miles below Pekin.

THE SPECTACLE ON THE RIVER—AN ESCORT OF THIRTY-SIX JUNKS—MR. WARD'S JUNK 100 YEARS OLD—ITS HISTORY.

Upon leaving Peitsang in the morning, our fleet made a fine spectacle on the water, as our cavalcade had done upon the land, thirty-six junks and smaller boats all drawn up close to the shore, and ready to follow our Minister's junk the moment the immense and terrible gong gave the signal for departure. Each mandarin has his junk and servants, while some of the junks were used for baggage, provisions, and other purposes. Mr. Ward's junk had its history. It was built a hundred years ago, and was occupied as a house as well as a mandarian passenger-boat, and had on board three generations of owners, viz: the grandfather, aged 60, and his two wives, and the son and his two wives and four children, his own age being 40. The grandfather had an elder brother on board, aged 64 years, and fairly attache to the junk, since he was born in it, and had never left it, and will not till his body is borne from thence to the house of silence, instead of the noisy Babel in which he had lived so long. The junk is an heir-loom, having belonged to the family from the beginning.

THE PROPELLING POWER—MAN SUPPLYING THE PLACE OF THE HORSE.

Onward we move, but not by wind or steam, or horse, or mule-power, it is simply the power of human bone and muscle which starts this long train of 36 junks from their slumbers, moving them slowly but surely against a current which runs 2 1-2 miles an hour, and also often against the winds as they turn the needless angular points made by the sinuosities of the river. A long rope, of sometimes 60 yards, is attached to the top of the mast, which is seized by men called "trackers," who sometimes walk on one bank, and then on the other, as the depth of current directs, each man having a little yoke on his shoulder which is connected by a smaller rope to the main one. Thus, these fine-looking, muscular men, fulfill the office of horses and mules, which could be really used, and "track" these heavy junks from the Gulf to Tung-chow, a distance about 200 miles. Sometimes the wind favors, and then instantly they spread their one square sail, and catch the precious breeze, which, however, they can generally utilize for a few minutes only, as a new angular point is to be doubled about every two miles, when the wind may be contrary. In descending, the current comes in aid of the humble tracker, and though he may not float down in his junk, small demands are made upon his bone and muscle. Our junk had sometimes 16 and sometimes 20 trackers, and others 10 and 12, and some less.

THE WONDERFUL SINUOSITIES OF THE RIVER.

These "reaches" on two sides of the triangle along which the junks sail, or are drawn, are from one to three miles long, and extend the whole length of the river, more than doubling the distance. Sometimes the base of the triangle is so narrow that it could be crossed at a common walk in five minutes, while in some instances, it seemed that a man standing in the middle could hurl a stone to the water on either side. On one occasion, standing on the poop deck, I could take in five of these triangles with my eye, and counted a hundred junks, whose sails happened to be spread to the propitious breeze, and which were sailing, as it seemed, almost in opposite directions. Nothing could be more picturesque and strange, just as though the junks, since the water could not be seen, were immense planes driven through the green fields and solid earth by the power of wind and sails!

THE SPLENDID CULTIVATION—THE VEGETATION—NO FORESTS.

Then the country and the cultivation!—Who can describe it? It fulfilled all which has ever been said in praise of Chinese agriculture, and all which my fancy had ever pictured. Corn-millet was the principle article, rising to twelve and fourteen feet, and making a forest of given vegetation farther than the eye could reach, and the rows in drills so straight and at such regular distances, that the most exact measurement must have attended the planting, while the whole was cleaner of weeds than any garden I ever entered. Then came a division of Indian corn, but not as broad or as frequent; then a breadth of beans; then of another kind of millet, resembling oats stalk, and very rank; and then a breadth of sesame, or of hemp, and so ever alternating, probably from views of utility, though nothing could be more tasteful and beautiful to the eye. Solitary trees also, as the willow and the elm, became frequent, while in the distance could be seen thick groves covering three or four acres but no forests.

ONE THOUSAND VILLAGE—ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN CROWD THE BANKS, BUT NOT A WOMAN.

The banks of the river were lined with villages containing thousands of inhabitants, who rushed on to gaze at us, as though we had come from the spirit-land, though no one suspected us of being spirits, while further back rose other and greater towns and villages still, and a great walled city lay a little further back from one point in the river, containing 300,000 thousand inhabitants or more; the tones of whose bells came floating softly and in melancholy surges to my ear over these boundless fields of vegetation. The rush was indescribable; the fields seemed alive with those wishing to catch a gaze at us. In advancing a short distance, a few miles only, it was computed that we passed about 100,000 people crowding the banks! But woman was not there!—a single fact indicating the root of almost all the evils in China and the East. Nothing could be more quiet and respectful than these immense crowds, though brought together under the most exciting sentiments.

LOFTY MOUNTAINS—THE GREAT WALL.

Onward still we move, when a new wonder breaks upon our eye in the distance—a range of lofty mountains running from the northeast to the southwest; they are the range separating China from Tartary, and reaching for more than 1,500 miles, over whose tops and down whose valleys that mighty work of man, if not the mightiest, and the wonder of the world for long ages—the Great Chinese Wall—stretches for some distance.

TUNG-CHOW, THE HEAD OF NAVIGATION.

Tuesday evening, July 26th, after a passage of five days upon the river, we arrived at the great town of Tung-chow, at the head of navigation on the Peiho, which here divides into two branches. The town contains 400,000 inhabitants, being one of the second class, and the port of the metropolis. It is surrounded by a high and thick wall, built of brick and earth, and surmounted with bastions. The streets are paved with flat stones, which, however, are so uneven and full of holes, as to make riding in a carriage intolerable.

100,000 TONS SHIPPING AND 1,000 JUNKS—THE GREAT CANAL—SIGNS OF DECAY.

There is a great amount of shipping here, which has been estimated at above 100,000 tons, and from a calculation made from careful observation, I judged that there were at least 1,000 junks in the river before the town, and a short distance above and below it. These junks on an average carry from 100 to 150 tons, and bring grain and rice from the coasts of China and through the Grand Canal to the metropolis. A little above the town the canal unites with the Pei-Ho, which is carried to Pekin, conveying thither a great part of the rice, grain, salt and other articles brought up the river in junks, while the rest is carried over the road which remains to be described, and will ever remain among the painful memories of my earthly pilgrimages. Tung-Chow, though so nearly approximating to New York in point of population, is without a single edifice commanding admiration or exhibiting taste, except it be some Budhist Temples, while the houses are all of one story, and crowded together, and the streets, as usual in Chinese cities, narrow, dark and filthy. It was crowded with streets, and seems to be the seat of an active and large business. We pass the imperial granaries, whose walls are so high and thick that some mistook them for the walls of the city. It was observable that the roofs of some of the buildings within the surrounding walls had partially fallen in, exhibiting again those signs of decay which meet the eye in all directions in approaching the capital.

THE INLAND JOURNEY TO PEKIN.

The Mandarins of the city crowded on our junk to welcome Mr. Ward as soon as it anchored, and remained a good part of the evening, proffering every assistance, and saying the carriages and attendants would all be ready in the morning to proceed to Pekin, for which we set out at 7 o'clock, exultant in the prospect of seeing this old Babylon in so short a time, so ignorant were we of our awaiting destiny. The carriages and all other appointments were the same in kind as before. We had traveled 25 miles by land and 120 by water, the whole occupying seven days; and 12 miles only remained between us and Pekin! We crawled into our carts once more, like dogs into their kennels, and began to advance, when, "Heu me miserum! me infelicem! Quo fugiam?" every one began to shout, grunt, or groan, as he began to feel knocks and jilts, and smashes, to which all he had experienced in the mud flats, the ruts, and pitches at the commencement of our journey, was hardly a circumstance.

THE DREADFUL ROADS.

The road begins in the great streets at the entrance of the city, which is paved with large flag-stones, often separated by violent concussion, and often worn into deep holes, of the width of the fellœs of wheels which had rolled over it, and when the wheels sunk into them, either in rapid motion or by a slow drop, pulling the mules violently back, the concussion was like a sudden dislocation. Thus for at least two miles we proceeded, till we reached the western gate of the city, when we imagined the disturbance of the stones would be less from the less use to which the stones had been subject. But here we found ourselves deceived again. The road must have been magnificent in its early days, and worthy the old Romans. It had been built above 200 years, since which it has received no improvements or repairs. The earth had been thrown up to such a perfect level, that it was impossible to detect the least elevation or depression for the entire distance from Tungchaw to Pekin. A floor does not exhibit a more perfect level. The width of the road is about 35 feet, the stones of which it is constructed being often 13 and 16 feet long, by 2 and 2 1-2 wide, and hewn with such precision as to make a work of solid masonry. The stones were brought from the mountains, and being of unequal solidity, some were more easily decomposed by atmospheric agency or worn away by the rolling of the wheels which pass over them.

Thus it happened that in some cases the stones were separated from top to bottom by frost, which is here intense in winter, or by violent concussions, or the settling or sliding of the earth in which they rested; or else deep holes had been worn out—which were filled with standing water; or more frequently and disastrously, the wheels had worn out just their even width, between which a little space had been created by the accidental starting of one or both of the stones in a horizontal direction. When the wheels struck and sunk into such holes, the concussion was fearfully violent to the rider as well as to the carriage, and especially when both wheels had dropped into such granite vises at the same time, which was often the case. I have read of late of individuals being torn to pieces from the mouth of the cannon in India; this seemed like being broken and smashed to pieces, if not on the wheel, not by it,—whenever it struck against the granite wall of one of these holes, under the power of two stout, energetic mules, and then sunk, bringing the mules back with a sudden and violent jerk, while the concussion was repeated by the effort to start them and the carriage forward again. It seemed that one's whole body was broken asunder by the shock, or if not all that, yet that some internal vessel must be ruptured, from which death would follow.

Dr. Fox, Fleet Surgeon, remarked that in his opinion riding in such carriages, and over such a road, must be fatal to persons afflicted with disease, if not others. At times, to obtain relief, the drivers steered their teams down the embankment into the roads on the central of the platform; but the mud, and water and ruts were so deep, and frequent that they were soon compelled to return, and let the passengers endure it as best they could. My driver cast all others into the shade. For the whole distance he never for once seemed to think of the tire of the wheels, or else, if he saw a hole ahead, he aimed at it, and hit it with unfailing precision. And with good logic too, did he thus drive; for had not his ancestors worn out these holes, and their children followed after, hitting the same holes? And why should not he follow in the steps of his illustrious predecessors?

ON HORSEBACK.

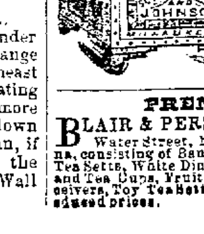

For myself, unable to escape the shocks by the most careful balancing in the middle of the carriage, and by holding on firmly with out stretched hands grasping a post of the vehicle on each side, I sprang or tumbled rather from it, and spreading my umbrella to protect me from the burning sun, I walked nearly half the distance when we came to some official quarters, where cups of tea were provided, and horses in readiness for those who might prefer them. Seizing one with a rush, in a moment I was on him, and indeed almost on him in the brilliancy of my prospects; and dashing into the ranks of a long-tailed and blue, red, green, azure, crystal, and all other buttoned Mandarins, (for my pony belonged to the progressive and would go ahead,) an inexpressible buoyancy came over my spirits, as though just liberated from the inquisition, and for the first time for years gazing upon the sun. Others had a similar chariot-experience, and resorted to the same remedy. May it be that our faces were not photographed upon the clouds, wafted home to friends or foes, and that the words sometimes uttered were not solidified in the air, and made immortal.

THE ENTRANCE INTO THE IMPERIAL CITY.

The country was very fine in the culture and productions, while temples and monuments lined the road, on which we gazed with admiration in passing, till at length we reached a government house, where all were required to alight and enter the great imperial city, which was only two miles ahead, in our carriages, as usages required.

UNDER COVER.—A villainous looking rat terrier got on board a train of cars at St. Louis, on Thursday last, and in the pursuit of the conductor to eject him, ran under a lady's hoops. Here a new difficulty presented itself. The dog caught his head between two hoops, and becoming frightened, yelped, screamed, snarled, and struggled ferociously for escape—all his efforts seeming only to entangle him the more. The matter was finally settled by a lank Hoorier, who catching a passing view of the terrier's tail, jerked the animal out with such force that he went clear through the car window.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

I HAVE THE FOLLOWING PROPERTY which I want to exchange for Dry Goods, or any other description of Goods:
First—A good Farm in Juneau County, Wisconsin; twenty-five acres under fence and in cultivation; a log cabin, such as we all were accustomed to live in when we first came to this country, twenty-five years ago; a good stream of water running thro' the entire farm; 40 acres of it is heavy timber. A large settlement surrounds the said farm.
Second—I have that large brown house, opposite Post Office on Wisconsin st., which contains about twenty-five rooms and rents for about one thousand dollars.
Third—I have two horses, one perfectly sound, kind and gentle; the other is somewhat foundered; but take the pair together and they make a good team for family use. Also, in connection, I have a carriage, buggy, wagon, sleigh, two sett harness, two side saddles, two men's saddles, three bridles, whip, &c., &c.
Fourth—I have three hundred acres of school land in Marquette County, Wis. This land has been selected, as all other school lands. Now, all the above property I will exchange for Dry Goods, &c., or for any good city property. The said property is free from all incumbrances. CALEB WALL,

PILES! PILES!! PILES!!!
What is it? How Cured!

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS HAVE PILES—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleeding, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces the engorgement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this abdominal venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and even injections, are ineffectual. HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefitted by it. Price 50 cents a box.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large 3-drachm vials, and morocco case, $5; do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

BUGLE SONG.
BY TENNYSON.

The splendor falls on castle walls,
And snowy summits old in story;
The long light shakes across the lakes,
And the wild cataract leaps in glory.
Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes flying;
Blow, bugle; answer, echoes dying, dying, dying.

O hark, O hear! how thin and clear,
And thinner, clearer, farther, going;
O sweet and far from cliff and scar,
The horns of Elf-land blowing!
Blow, let us hear the purple glens replying;
Blow, bugle; answer, echoes, dying, dying.

O love, they die in your rich sky;
They faint on field, or hill, or river;
Our echoes roll from soul to soul,
And grow forever and forever.
Blow, bugle, blow, set the wild echoes flying,
And answer, echoes, answer, dying, dying, dying.

Agricultural.

GRAPE VINES.—Let us remind our readers that November 25th is about the proper time for trimming out-door grape vines, and although we admire consistency above all things, still, when we find ourselves in error, we are prompt to acknowledge it, and after an experience of many years in the pruning of grape vines, we are compelled to admit, that those who have pruned less severely have been equally successful; and had they been equally judicious in the manipulation of the soil with ourselves, might have obtained results very superior to others.

We are now convinced that were it not for the expense of raising arbors with slatted roofs, that those grapes which grow overhead, hanging below the leaves through the slats of an arbor, would prove most profitable, not only from the quantity being greater, but that the quality is always superior, and less liable to disease. Under such arrangement the grapes are shaded while the leaves themselves, on the upper side, receive the full influence of the sun, the bloom on the fruit is better, and the quality is certainly superior. We have grape vines on poles, on vertical arbors, and on those with slat roofs, and with rhubarb between the rows, and all go to satisfy us that the flat roofs, with the grapes pendant, give us the best fruit; that the vertical arbors are better than the poles, and that very severe pruning does not produce the best quality, nor the greater quantity of grapes.

Whatever pruning is performed, however, it should be done in November, and in the latter part of the month. At this time there is no fear of bleeding of the vines, and before spring the cut ends will have assumed a condition, that the rising of the sap in spring will not cause them to bleed.

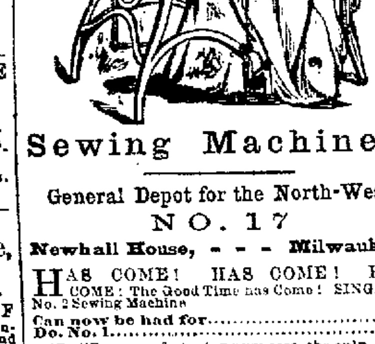

POTATOES.—The Mercer potatoe, or Nishenock, or Meshannock, if we understand its history, was grown from seed nearly fifty years ago, in Mercer county, Pennsylvania, on Big Nishenock Creek, by John Gilkey, who called it the Nishenock Royal Potato. From this place it was carried to the neighborhood of Philadelphia, where it was grown extensively, and called the Mercer, because originating in Mercer county. From Philadelphia they were sent over the country under this name; whilst those sent out from Mercer county, where they originated, continued to be called Nishenocks and Meshannocks, while some persons started them with new names, as Chenango, Boone Potato, &c. Seedlings have been raised from the old Mercer, like the parent in most respects, but darker, and these have been called Blue Mercers, Purple Mercers, &c., and the true Mercers have been called for some, particularly by buyers, the White Mercer, to distinguish them from these darker sorts. They have of late become so mixed, that it is hardly possible to obtain or even to distinguish the original sort. They are lighter colored than all others, having less of the purple color. This, however, cannot be regarded as a true test, for they grow darker when grown for a series of years on heavy land, and continue to bleach out until nearly white on light land.—Rural New Yorker.

ASPARAGUS BEDS should now be cut off close to the ground, and the bed covered with earth, old manure and scrapings of the alleys. This should be loose and friable, as it thus serves for a protection from the frost, and allows the bed to be raked free from it in early spring, when the roots want to be brought within the influence of the sun's rays at as early a date as possible, so that the first crop may be had soon.

SPOTS of ground excessively moist, and where water usually settles in winter, may be greatly benefitted by plowing a furrow through to some adjoining lower lands, where it will easily run off. If a little use of the shovel is required to complete the work, it isn't much, and will surely pay. Attention to this matter now, will save much wheat and rye that would otherwise winter kill.

AID TO THE
MT. VERNON FUND.
Stuart's "Gold Mounted" Oil Portrait of Washington.

"There is a modest mansion on the banks of the Potomac."

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA, throughout its length and breadth, who are desirous of aiding the "Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union" in their noble work—that of collecting means to consummate the purchase, and completely restore and beautify the HOME of our beloved Washington at Mount Vernon—can render valuable service to the cause, by forming clubs from among their friends of 5, 10, 20, or more persons, and remitting, with names, to either of the Vice Regents of Lady Managers of the Association the same amount in dollars, for their beautiful copy of the great original picture by Gilbert Charles Stuart, now in possession of the Boston Athenæum.

The portrait, executed in oil colors, faithfully and accurately representing this chef d'œuvre of Stuart, is cabinet size, and being made tributary to the Mount Vernon Fund, is at once an evidence of the patriotism and taste of the purchaser, besides being a handsome parlor ornament. A favorable opportunity is thus offered to every family in the land, of contributing to this noble Mount Vernon cause by the purchase of this portrait; and no better memorial can be treasured of the great Chieftain and the Mount Vernon object, than such an appropriate and speaking souvenir.

This plan, as ONE of the aids of collecting means, is considered a happy one; and for the tribute of ONE DOLLAR this offering of the Association is assuredly most acceptable.

Parcels of 5, 10, 20, 30, or 100 copies will be carefully put up and sent to any point of address on the receipt of ONE DOLLAR for each picture ordered; thus, five dollars remitted for five pictures; ten dollars for ten; twenty for twenty, &c.

Clubs of ten, twenty, fifty or more persons, can remit to Mrs. Susan L. Pellet, Corresponding Secretary, at Richmond, Va. or any of the officers representing the Mount Vernon interest in other States.

Each of the officers will receive all orders, and have them promptly supplied.

Together with woman's persuasive influence, is added that of the eloquent son of Massachusetts, the Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, whose noble efforts in behalf of the Association, thus far have been crowned with the highest success, he having already contributed, by his own unassisted abilities and masterly eloquence, upwards of $60,000 to the Fund.

N. B.—Please write names legible, as each person forming a club will be published under the Portrait Subscription in the "Mount Vernon Record;" also forward all moneys without being registered.

All Express Companies throughout the country, extending even to California and Oregon, having given the Association the FREE use of their routes, parcels will therefore be forwarded without any charge.

Persons will address and remit to the Vice Regents, or through their Committees and Managers; also, to L. A. Godey, Esq., of the Lady's Book; to S. P. Watson, or to DEVEREUX & CO.,
132 South Third street, Philadelphia.

GOLD-MOUNTED OIL PORTRAIT OF MR. EVERETT.

A faithful and accurate photographic picture of this gentleman, is now ready for delivery. It is beautifully executed, with appropriate emblems of Mount Vernon in a gold arabesque border.

Clubs from 5 to 100 solicited, and forwarded the same as the Washington Portrait—One dollar for each picture ordered. DEVEREUX & CO.,

MOREHEAD'S
MAGNETIC PLASTER

THIS ENORMOUS QUANTITY OF this Invaluable Remedy has been purchased by citizens of the United States during the short time it has been before the public. The reason for this extraordinary success is simply in the actual truth and value of the article. No one buys the MAGNETIC PLASTER without becoming its friend. It performs all that is promised, and carries with it its own recommendation. Truly this is a Victory—peaceful and bloodless—but we believe not less glorious than the triumphs of war, with its train of carnage and desolation.

The MAGNETIC PLASTER is undoubtedly the Greatest Strengthener and Pain Destroyer that Science has yet discovered. If you put this Plaster anywhere, if Pain is there, the Plaster will stick there until the Pain has vanished. The Plaster magnetises the Pain away, and

Its use is agreeable, and without annoyance or trouble. Its price is within reach of all—rich or poor; all may have it, and all should have it who are sick, and suffering in any way.

FARMERS and PLANTERS should always be supplied with the MAGNETIC PLASTER. It will be the Good Physician in any household, ready at all times and at instant notice.

SOYER'S SULTANA SAUCE.
For Hot or Cold Dishes of all Kinds.

THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetizing Sauce was invented by the renowned "SOYER," on his return from the Crimea, and since his decease is manufactured by CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. The manufacturers simply ask for it a trial, convinced that it must add to the already large consumption, and that it will prove itself unequaled, either as a stimulant to the appetite or an aid to digestion.

Opinions of the London Press

"We recommend our correspondent to try MONSIEUR SOYER'S new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

"The Sultana's Sauce is savory, piquant, and spicy; a happy combination of flavors and essences worthy of the delicate taste of a Sultana, the genius of a Soyer, and the universal patronage of a discriminating Public."—Observer.

"A concentration of all the piquant resources of Turkey and Russia."—United Service Gazette.

"As a titillater of the appetite this Sauce stands alone. It is a most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh, or Fowl, and should be placed on every dinner table."—Atlas.

"The Sultana sauce is a most delicious zest."—Morn Chronicle.

Richardson's Irish Linens, Damaks,

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

BININGER'S
OLD LONDON DOCK
GIN
A. M. BININGER & CO.,
(ESTABLISHED 1778.)
SOLE IMPORTERS,
No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family,

Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, [Tonic and Diuretic] which belong to an OLD AND PURE GIN.

The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our excellent reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

N. B.

A comparison of "Bininger's [Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

THE GREAT WONDER
Of the Nineteenth Century,
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic.—Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1858.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co.:

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made a trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

O. J. WOOD & CO. Proprietors, 312 Broadway, New York, (in the great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment,) and 114 Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

THE SENTINEL.

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY EVENING, November 25th.

Money Matters.

The money market now-a-days seldom presents any new features. Currency continues to accumulate, the demand on the banks for discounts becoming less active as the movement of produce decreases. Produce bills and other business paper are negotiated without difficulty at the legal rate. Exchange, however, is growing scarcer, and the banks have all they can do in meeting the wants of their customers in this line.—The current rates now are 1½ premium here, and 2 per cent. on Chicago.

WESTERN CURRENCY AT CINCINNATI.—The Cincinnati Gazette says:

Eastern Exchange has advanced to 2 prem. Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin currency has, therefore, declined here to 1½ dis. and it is only sustained at this figure by a temporary demand from produce dealers. The tendency hereafter will be to lower rates. Missouri currency has declined to 1 dis. It costs that to convert it, exchange being scarce at St. Louis at ½@1 prem., and plenty here at ½@¾ prem.

Yesterday there was no meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, and the grain trade, like most other branches of business, was pretty much suspended, and the day devoted to thanksgiving and eating turkeys. A few sales of wheat were made at Wednesday's closing quotations. To-day the market opened with more buoyancy, and an improvement of 1 cent was established, No. 1 Spring selling on the track at 58 cents. This advance was caused by a temporarily increased shipping demand, to-day being the last day that insurance risks will be taken at the season rates. There may have been private advices received, which tended to strengthen the market, but we attribute the improvement mainly to the cause mentioned. The sales this P. M. of the various grades were at the following prices: 58c for No. 1 on track and 59 delivered; 90@92c for Club; 9?@94c for Extra Club; and 86@86½c for No. 2. There was a fair enquiry for flour, but buyers seem to have fixed their prices 15@20 cents below the views of holders, and except where concessions were make on the part of the latter, no transactions occurred. Good country brands of Spring Extra sold at a range of $4,25 to $4 35 and Fine and Superfine at $3,80@3,87½. Dressed hogs were in good request, and although the weather was not the most favorable for packing, prices ruled a shade higher than on Wednesday. Lots averaging 200 pounds and upwards sold readily at $5,25@5,50 and in a few instances higher figures were paid for very nice hogs. Receipts of live and dressed hogs thus far this season are as follows:

Reported to-day	773 head.
Previously reported	8,064 "
Total	8,837 "

THE PORK AND PROVISION TRADE.

The Cincinnati Gazette of Wednesday has the following figures, facts and speculations with reference to the pork and provision trade at that point:

The receipts of hogs since the commencement of the packing season, foot up 60,190 head against 102,221 to the corresponding date last year. The facilities for packing in this city, are equal to 20,000 head per day. The receipts for the past week have averaged about 5,000 head per day. This has operated in favor of sellers, the engagements for early meat, &c., having been more than equal to the daily offerings. Prices have, therefore, gathered strength, closing firm at $5 75 for lots averaging 200 pounds and upwards. But although prices of products have come up in proportion, and the feeling being upon the whole, buoyant, with some disposition to speculate, it is doubtful whether hogs would be sustained under large receipts—say 10,000 to 12,000 a day. Until the market is fairly tested, therefore, it is difficult to form any reliable opinion as to the future. There is generally a disinclination to invest at high prices, that is to say most of the regular dealers think that at $5 75 to $6 the business would not be safe, and under present circumstances heavy receipts would tend to a decline, there being no support outside of the legitimate trade of consequence. On the other hand, $5 to $5 50 are looked upon as safe figures. From this, $5 may be regarded as somewhere near the bottom, at least there is no probability of lower figures, unless, as the season progresses, there should be indications of a large increase in the crop, such as $6 or over would be likely to bring about. As matters stand, operators anticipate as many hogs as were packed last year, with an increase of 10 per cent. in weight. Upon this basis they are willing to pay an average of say $5 25; but the addition of 50@75 to the average would add to two or three thousand to the crop. This, it is believed, would spoil the trade. The weakening is sound. The conclusions, we think, are correct. The condition of the country is such, that a full crop of provisions would be taken at equal to $6@525 for hogs; but higher prices for the latter would increase the crop and diminish the consumption, and this, of course would cut off the profits. It is not to be doubted that there are large enough in the country to make a larger crop than last year, if extra inducements are offered to farmers in the shape of prices, and it is therefore for packers to decide whether they will override the business, as they did last year, or keep on the safe side. New mess pork sold to-day at $14 75 for immediate delivery; and old is not to be had for less than $14 75 @ $5. There were several orders for the latter at $14 70, but there was but little to be found at any price, though the Price Current, we observe, estimates the stock at 3,000 bbls. This may be correct, for stocks are always held very close, upon a rising market.

MILWAUKEE BEEF BUYERS IN IOWA.—The Dubuque Times of Wednesday evening publishes the following item having some allusion to this region:

We learn that cattle buyers from Milwaukee are traversing Iowa with a good deal of industry, and collecting all the herds they can purchase to drive to Milwaukee. The cattle are there slaughtered and shipped to the Liverpool market. The capital is probably furnished by Canadian operators.

THE HOG CROP IN THIS STATE.—ASA MCCOLLUM writes to the Commercial Express from Richland County his opinion with regard to the hog crop of that section:

SEXTONVILLE, Richland Co., Wis., November 18, 1859.

For the two last years corn in this region has been light, in some parts almost a total failure: add to this, the fact that nearly all our farmers are in debt, and to settle up as far as possible, sent to market everything eatable last year and at that time hogs were kept over as have been years past. There will not really be pork enough made in this county for home consumption the present year, though I suppose that nevertheless, considerable will be sent off.

Yours, respectfully, ASA MCCOLLUM.

D. D. COOPER writes to the same paper from Fond du Lac about the probable yield in that county:

FOND DU LAC, WIS., Nov. 15, 1859.

The corn crop in this county is very light, and in consequence the prices of good fat hogs will range high here. I think corn is not quite half a crop. We will not have pork enough to supply this region—none to ship. Last year, a part of our best hogs were sent to Milwaukee and packed there. Some farmers are now selling their hogs for what they will bring, because corn corn is all fed out, and though the pork is only half fatted, it is bringing from 4 to 5½ per pound net. All that can hold on will not sell at less than 6c. It will not pay to feed on wheat or barley at present prices.—All the pork in this region of country will be packed here, for it will be needed in the pineries north of here. The lumber trade will be good this winter, and a large amount of pork will be needed to feed the lumbermen getting out logs. D. D. COOPER.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 25th.

WEATHER cloudy, wind S. W. and, in nautical phraseology, blowing like the d—l.

BARK NORTHERN LIGHT ASHORE.—The bark Northern Light, coming from Chicago here to load with wheat, went ashore in the gale last night a couple of rods north of the Straight Cut. The wind was blowing from the South East, but the night was excessively dark, and the captain must have been unacquainted with the position of the Light House, else he could not possibly have missed the entrance to the harbor. She lies high and dry on the beach, and is apparently uninjured.

THE SCHOONER W. H. DEWITT, which went ashore below the harbor a few nights since, was got off without injury yesterday and went into dry dock to-day to have her stem repaired. During all the tumbling about she had on the beach, she did not leak a drop, and last night she rode the gale out at anchor within a few rods of the shore.

ARRIVAL OF THE CUYAHOGA.—The propeller Cuyahoga, which was due about a week ago, arrived yesterday. She was detained by getting aground in the Detroit River and a succession of gales on Lake Huron.—The Cuyahoga has been chartered by the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway to carry freight between this city and Grand Haven while the steamship Detroit is being overhauled, and, if the business shall warrant, it during the winter. The Cuyahoga cleared last night on her first trip across the Lake with a full cargo of flour.

PORT COLBORNE, Nov. 22.

The propeller Dunkirk and schooner Lilly Dancy are in this port for shelter.

THE FOLLOWING VESSELS passed from 4 o'clock P. M. on the 22nd till 4 o'clock P. M. on the 23rd of November, 1859:

Bound West—November 22nd, schooners Twin Brothers and Reid; on the 23rd, propeller Wisconsin; bark Indiana; schooners H. L. Whitman, Syracuse, Canadian, Velocity, Bay Queen.

Bound East.—Nov. 22d, none; on the 23d, barques Fontanelle, Arabia, Hungarian, Norman, brig Christiana, schooners Kate Robinson, Gem, (Chicago) Acontias, Excelsior, Lucy J. Latham, Titan, Algerine, Herald, Montezuma, Granada, Gunecock, C. C. Griswold, Uncle Tom, Harriet Ross.

PORT COLBORNE, Nov. 23.

The schooner Andrew J. Rich is at the elevator, waiting for orders. J. MCGILLIVRAY.

VESSELS PASSING DETROIT during the 24 hours ending Wednesday noon:

UP—Propeller Akron; schooners Patrick Henry, Rush, Falcon.

DOWN—Propeller Adriatic; brigs Roscius, Bay City schooners L. B. Shepard, Flora Watson.

Weather cool and stormy. Wind strong NW.

THE RECENT GALE ON LAKE HURON.—The Detroit Tribune, of Wednesday evening, says:

The schooner L. B. Shepard passed down to-day, being another of the number which experienced the sad effects of the recent gale on Lake Huron. She lost her small boat, fore-top-mast, jibboom and more or less of her bulwarks, and partially sprung a leak. The captain, before proceeding any further, entered a protest at this port on the cargo, when she immediately left again on her voyage. The captain of the Shepard reports the W. B. Ogden at Tawas Bay with her foresail gone and otherwise injured.

The same paper also learns that the schooner Theodore Perry went on Point au Peles on Monday night, and is probably full of water. She has on 1,500 bbls salt, part of which may be saved.

The propeller Adriatic, while passing down the river last evening, ran into a topsail scow, carrying away her bowsprit, foremast and everything connected therewith by the board, leaving her almost a perfect wreck. The name of the scow we have not been able to ascertain.—Detroit Tribune, Wednesday.

FAST SAILING.—The schooner Matt Root, Capt. Fargo, left Chicago last Thursday, and arrived here yesterday, having been 4 days and 20 hours from port to port. She was detained 20 hours in the rivers and at the head of this lake.—Buffalo Express, Wednesday.

GALLANT EFFORT OF THE TUG RED ERIC TO SAVE A VESSEL IN DISTRESS.—The Detroit Tribune, says:

We are informed with reference to the schooner Winfield Scott, which lost her anchors and was otherwise disabled on Lake Huron, on Saturday last, that she would probably have been lost had it not been for the gallant efforts of Capt. Blanchard, of the tug Red Eric, and his crew, who, seeing the Scott's signals of distress, fired up and put out to her assistance at a time when the violence of the storm rendered it a not only difficult but absolutely dangerous measure. Capt. Stedman, of the Scott, with his crew, desire to express their thanks for the services rendered, and the admiration for the spirit that prompted the crew of the Eric to endanger their own safety in seeing to aid others.

The Great Secret at Last Discovered!!

JUNIUS JUDSON,

PATENTEE AND MANUFACTURER OF

JUDSON'S PATENT GOVERNOR VALVES,

FOR REGULATING THE

MOTION OF STEAM ENGINES,

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the world, and like all really great inventions, the most simple. Manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., Selye Building, near R. R. Depot.

Shop Rights for sale.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

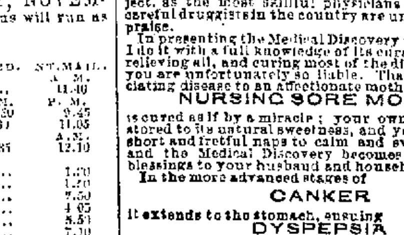

Patent issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1850. Reissued, Jan. 17th, 1854. Second Patent, March 1th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 6th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening more in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in any way—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of adjustment necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

I therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really infringements), ... with my improvement, ... which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all ... improvements ... valves or governors, to see if ... this truth or principle; ... it their applicants ... are not involved in their ... if ... the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at the purchaser's ... approved by his piratical depredations.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY,

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,

(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)

FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (Discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a thoroughly SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used whenever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act, as a preventative with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail." —Dr. ...

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D. Lynville, Pa.

"I have been gratified in observing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. ..., M. D., Honeoe Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over this formidable disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the vital functions."—Dr. W. E. Root, Montrose, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Morris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination. ... Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—Dr. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, but even by myself, under the old treatment. I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. P. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in a large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption, IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

For sale, Wholesale and Retail, by HENRY FESS, Jr., Milwaukee, who is authorized to supply THE TRADE at New York prices.

For sale at Retail by J. M. ALCOTT, and by all prominent Druggists.

APPLES, IN PRIME ORDER, FOR Sale by EDWARD TRUSLOW, Wholesale Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Fruits, &c., 119 East Water street.

Medical.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, FROM THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

In the more advanced stages of

CANKER

it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,

DONALD KENNEDY.
